ENGLISH ASSOCIATION

The Department of English, in collaboration with IQAC, organised a one-day webinar "Relevance of Buddhism in India Today" on 31st December 2020 on Google meet. With an active participation of more than 20 faculty members, and chief speakers namely Mr. Bhante Mahendra, Mr. Bhante Rakesh Kumar, Dr Arun Kumar (Assistant Professor, NNM University Nalanda, Bihar) and Dr Sushil Kumar Singh (Assistant Professor, Central Tibetan University, Sarnath, Varanasi). Dr Sandeep Kr. Yadav (Teacher-in-Charge, Department of English) and Principal, Dr. Ramesh Kumar, gave a brief introduction about the topic and emphasized that there is so much to learn from Gautam Buddha's life and how relevant this topic is in this need of hour.

Followed by a note from Principal Sir, the speakers in the panel were invited to share their views. Dr Arun Kumar talked about Theravada Buddhism, which emphasizes attaining self-liberation through one's efforts. Buddhism is one such religion that is also credited to be a religion of pure intellect. It dwells on individual experiences and prompts us to accept only the doctrines which we find acceptable and discard those which we may find unacceptable. Buddhism talks about human life's progress on all fronts, be it social, economic, intellectual or even political, thus leaving no facet of human life untouched.

After that, Dr. Sushil Kumar Singh expressed his views about Buddha's childhood, his luxurious and comfortable life at that time and how he left everything, got detached and moved on the path of "Nirvana". The whole session became very enriching and relevant as some very thought-provoking questions were discussed. In today's world, people have all sorts of material possessions and physical comfort then why are they still unhappy? Why are they still suffering? The answer to all these questions indeed lies in knowing Buddhism in its true sense.

Webinar ended with a vote of thanks delivered by Dr Kusum Devi (Assistant Professor, Department of English, Shyam Lal College Evening).
