Serving as the Vice President of the Placement Cell has been a profound journey of personal and professional growth. Initially daunted by the responsibility of ensuring successful placements for an entire student batch, my apprehension evolved into determined focus. I immersed myself in understanding industry trends, refining communication skills, and bridging gaps between students, faculty, and companies.

Central to this role was the realization that true success lay in team dynamics. Learning to delegate, foster collaboration, and motivate my team was immensely rewarding as I witnessed them grow into confident individuals. The thrill of coordinating with companies, organizing events, and strategizing interviews turned each successful placement into a collective victory.

Beyond mere placements, the role expanded into career counseling and guiding students towards discovering their strengths. Helping them craft resumes and prepare for interviews instilled a profound sense of self-belief and readiness for the professional world.

Witnessing students transform from nervous applicants into confident professionals was deeply fulfilling. Their success stories not only motivated me but also underscored the impact of our efforts. SEMINAR ON INTERIM BUDGET 2024-25 FOR VIKSIT BHARAT: EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

“

Speakers: Dr. M.M. Goel, Former VC of Kurukshetra University; Dr. Hemant Kukreti, Principal; Dr. Ajay Gupta, Convener; Mr. Pankaj Vats and Ms. Nandini Paul (Master of Ceremony)

Dr. M.M. Goel, an esteemed economist and former Vice-Chancellor, addressed the students and staff of Shyam Lal College in Delhi on the implications of the Interim Budget 2024-25 for the development of Viksit Bharat (Developed India) with a particular focus on employment opportunities.

Dr. Goel expressed optimism about the democratic nature of the budget, describing it as a harbinger of hope and enthusiasm for the development of the nation. However, he also emphasized that while the budget aligns with the vision of Viksit Bharat by 2047, it falls short in adequately addressing the crucial issue of employment generation.

According to Dr. Goel, the budget proposals, while necessary for the long-term vision, lack sufficient measures to generate employment. He highlighted the importance of the tourism sector, noting that it has the highest employment multiplier. He suggested that states could be incentivized through long-term interest-free loans to bolster the tourism sector, thereby creating more job opportunities.

SEMINAR ON SKILL INDIA AND IMPORTANCE OF YOUNG MIND FOR VIKSIT BHARAT:2047

Furthermore, Dr. Goel proposed a transformation of entities like the Khadi & Village Industries Commission (KVIC) and Life Insurance Corporation (LIC) of India into multinational corporations (MNCs) to boost job creation, aligning with international trade directives.

The economist stressed the importance of building upon the seven priorities outlined in 2023-24, likening them to the guiding principles of the 'Saptarishi,' guiding the nation through a transformative period akin to the Amrit Kaal. Dr. Goel underscored the significance of 'Needonomics,' a concept based on the teachings of the Bhagavad Gita. He explained how it encompasses various domains including needo-consumption, needo-saving, needo-investment, needo-growth, needo-exports, needo-altruism for needo-wealth, needo-health, and needo-happiness. He emphasized the need for Gita-based needonomics as a common-sense approach for the development of Viksit Bharat.

In conclusion, Dr. M.M. Goel called for boldness, courage, and enthusiasm among citizens to embody the qualities of being street SMART (Simple, Moral, Action-oriented, Responsive, and Transparent) global citizens, urging a new narrative for the development of Viksit Bharat. The event concluded with a vote of thanks by Dr. Ajay Gupta, the convener, acknowledging the active participation of all the Placement Cell team members. The seminar hall was filled with enthusiastic students, reflecting the keen interest and engagement of the youth in the discourse on the economic future of the country. The event was marked by a positive and vibrant atmosphere, fostering dialogue and awareness among the student community.
