Teaching Method

I utilize advanced educational technologies to enhance student-teacher interaction. These include projectors for PowerPoint presentations, instructional films, cordless microphones, and classroom communication devices. My commitment to creating a dynamic learning environment is evident in my focus on engagement through discussions, debates, quizzes, workshops, and field surveys.

To further support learning, I have launched a YouTube channel dedicated to Political Science students, providing them with uninterrupted access to video lectures. Additionally, I have developed a comprehensive lecture series available on the Ministry of Education's channel, covering the Consortium of Educational Communication (CEC). This initiative ensures continuous learning, even in challenging times.
