

SHYAM LAL COLLEGE (EVENING)

University of Delhi

REPORT

Awareness Session on ERSS-112

Emergency Response Support System (ERSS-112)

Awareness session with Delhi Police officials and students

Organised by	Discipline Committee
Guest Speaker	Inspector Sanjeev Verma, Inspector (Admin), Shahdara Zone, PCR
Date	30 September 2026
Time	3:00 PM
Venue	Lab 1

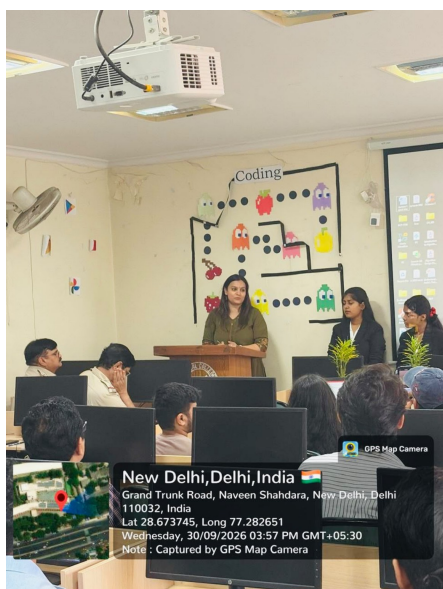

1. Programme Overview

The Discipline Committee of Shyam Lal College (Evening), University of Delhi organised an Awareness Session on ERSS-112 (Emergency Response Support System) on 30 September 2026 at Lab 1. The session was designed to educate students about the importance, features and utility of ERSS-112, along with the correct procedure for accessing emergency response services and using them responsibly.

The programme was addressed by Inspector Sanjeev Verma, Inspector (Admin), Shahdara Zone, PCR. The session provided students with an opportunity to interact with police officials and understand emergency-response awareness in a practical setting.

Key points covered:

- Purpose and importance of ERSS-112.
- Awareness of emergency response services and their utility.
- Correct procedure for accessing emergency assistance.
- Responsible and appropriate use of emergency response services.
- Awareness of emergency situations and the importance of seeking appropriate assistance.

Students participating in the awareness session and presentation activities.

2. Session Highlights

The programme began with the participation of students, faculty members and Delhi Police officials. The presence of the invited police team created an informative and interactive setting. Students followed the presentation and discussion in Lab 1 and were encouraged to understand the utility of emergency assistance and the importance of using emergency services responsibly.

The session combined an informative presentation with direct interaction between students and representatives of the Delhi Police. Students were reminded to remain alert, informed and responsible during emergency situations.

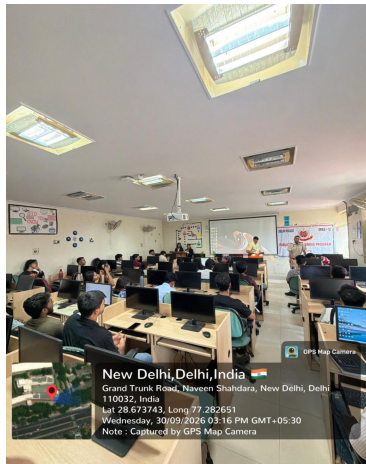

Delhi Police official addressing students during the ERSS-112 awareness programme.

Programme outcomes:

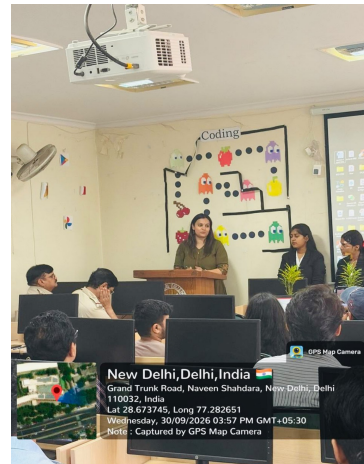

- Students gained greater awareness of ERSS-112 and its relevance in emergency situations.
- The session highlighted the importance of knowing the correct procedure for accessing emergency response services.
- Students were reminded that emergency services should be used responsibly and for genuine assistance.
- The interaction with police officials provided practical exposure and encouraged students to remain alert and informed.
- The programme strengthened awareness of public safety and the role of responsible citizens during emergencies.

3. Photographic Documentation

Photographs from the programme document student participation, the presentation, interaction with Delhi Police officials and the group participation after the session.

Session at Lab 1 with students and Delhi Police officials.

Students participating in the presentation.

Delhi Police official addressing the students.

Group photograph with Delhi Police officials and participants.

Group photograph after the awareness session.

Student presentation and participation.

4. Conclusion & Acknowledgement

The Awareness Session on ERSS-112 served as an informative programme for students, focusing on emergency response awareness, the utility of ERSS-112 and the responsible use of emergency services. The presence of Delhi Police officials made the session practical and engaging. Overall, the programme created an academic platform for awareness about emergency assistance services and strengthened students' understanding of timely and responsible emergency response.

The Discipline Committee, Shyam Lal College (Evening), University of Delhi acknowledges the valuable guidance and support of the Principal, Prof. Nachiketa Singh, along with the valuable presence and guidance of Inspector Sanjeev Verma, Inspector (Admin), Shahdara Zone, PCR, the participating Delhi Police officials, faculty members, organising team and all students who contributed to the successful conduct of the ERSS-112 Awareness Session.

Bhavna Yadav

Convenor, Discipline Committee

Shyam Lal College (Evening), University of Delhi